Standard Club Is Setting Of Dance

The Standard club was the scene of a beautiful reception and dance Wednesday evening from 9 until 2, when the members of this exclusive club had the opening ball of the annual dance.

The ballroom of the club has just been redecorated in ivory and gold and was a fitting background for the gorgeous gowns worn by the dancers. Large silver baskets held golden chrysanthemums and ferns while palms and southern smilax were also used in decoration.

The grand march was led by the president of the club, Lee Weil, and Mrs. Weil. The committee on arrangements was composed of the following: Mrs. Lee Weil, Mrs. Adolph Weil, Mrs. Elkan Hohenburg, Miss Leona Marshuetz and Miss Alma Nachman, and much of the beauty of the affair was due to their earnest efforts.

At midnight an elaborate hot three-course supper was served the guests in the dining room, which was decorated for the occasion with Columbia roses and plumosa.

On Wednesday evening, Dec. 10, the club will entertain at a bridge and mah jong party and in accordance with the usual custom, a number of dinner parties before the games begin. On Christmas the club will have an elaborate affair, the plans for which are already being formulated.

CLUB WOMEN HONOR VISITORS

Honoring the delegates to the annual meeting of the Fifth district Alabama Federation of Women's clubs and the Southeastern Council of the General Federation, the Montgomery federation entertained at an elaborate luncheon Wednesday at one o'clock at the Montgomery Country club. This was the first social feature for the prominent club women who came to Montgomery for two day's session of the Fifth district and council and proved one of the most delightful affairs of the week.

Presiding at the luncheon was Mrs. M. H. Tuttle, president of the Montgomery federation. The invitation was given by Mrs. Frank Elmore, Jr., one of the most honored and beloved club women in the city. There were no set speeches or formal introductions, but a general air of hospitality which warmed the hearts of Montgomery's distinguished visitors. As the guests arrived they were greeted by members of the Bluestocking club, who acted as hostesses on this occasion.

Purple and gold the federation, colors were used to decorate the reception room and dining room for the luncheon Wednesday. Yellow chrysanthemums in baskets tied with purple ribbons were placed at intervals on the table and the place card for each guest was a yellow rose tied with purple ribbons. During the luncheon hour, Mrs. Elsie R. Neely, Montgomery's noted soprano singer, gave two selections, "Love Life," "Manna-Zucco," and "A Hole in the Fence." Russell, Mrs. C. Haygood accompanied Mrs. Neely. There were no formal introductions but each guest introduced herself and told the club she represented, doing away with formality and making the occasion all the more enjoyable.

The honored guests on this occasion were: Mrs. J. W. McCollum, Miss Elizabeth Skinner and Mrs. W. S. Jennings, of Florida; Mrs. L. H. Jennings, South Carolina; Mrs. Sessums, Florida; Mrs. Stanley Read, Kentucky; Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. J. H. Hayes Atlanta, and Mrs. A. P. Brantley also of Georgia; Mrs. Val Taylor, Uniontown, Ala.; Mrs. C. M. Williamson, Birmingham; Mrs. H. W. Bostick, Birmingham; Mrs. H. R. Hernandez, Jasper; Mrs. George Brownell, Tuscaloosa; Mrs. R. P. Gross, Mrs. L. B. Coley, Alexander City; Miss Hattie Morton, Birmingham; Mrs. J. P. Comer, Alexander City; Mrs. A. Y. Malone, Dothan; Mrs. W. W. Brandon, Montgomery; Mrs. Irwin Craighead, Alabama and Mrs. J. Brevard Jones, Mrs. Bibb Graves and Mrs. John Tilley, state officers for the Alabama federation.

FEDERATION DIRECTORS TO MEET MONDAY

The board of directors of the Montgomery Federation of Women's clubs will meet Thursday afternoon at three o'clock at the chamber of commerce. This will be a very important meeting and every member is asked to be present. A full report will be given of the meetings of the fifth district and the southeastern council.

WED AND PART IN A DAY

Baltimore Couple's Romance May End By Dispute Over a Puppy

Society circles of Baltimore are stirred over the matrimonial escapade of Mrs. James Carroll Jenkins, an attractive divorcee, and Leigh Bonsal, Jr., son of a prominent Maryland family. The two, while members of a motor car party, became engaged in the morning, were married in the afternoon and separated at midnight, and, according to the bride, a pet puppy precipitated the climax.

Leigh Bonsal, Sr., prominent attorney, says: "Proceedings to annul the marriage were begun at once," and his new daughter-in-law says most emphatically that she loved young Leigh, that he loved her and there would be no annulment, as the marriage was perfectly legal as they were both of age and Leigh had told her they would be married over again if his father had their wedding annulled.

As proof of her husband's affection, Mrs. Bonsal displayed two costly diamond rings which she said her husband bought for her before they decided to get married.

According to the bride, young Bonsal was attacked by his brother, Pleasant Bonsal, when he returned to his home, and the attack, Mrs. Bonsal said, is what caused the separation, for Bonsal was injured and is confined to his home. But Mrs. Bonsal insists that the attack on her husband was not caused by the marriage, but by a setter puppy which Leigh Bonsal, Jr., started to take from his home against his brother's objections.

Mrs. Bonsal, Sr., further says: "My son and Mrs. Jenkins were only acquaintances. In a spirit of silly joking, encouraged by some friends who should have known better, they were married without realizing the seriousness of it."

Mrs. Bonsal was formerly Miss Catherine McPhail. She was married to Jenkins in 1920 and divorced last year. Mrs. McPhail, the bride's mother, agrees with Mr. Bonsal, Sr., that the marriage should be annulled.—Chicago Tribune.

Dothan Society

DOOTHAN, Ala., Dec. 5.—(Special.) The Mothers' round table held its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. J. V. Harrison. The subject for the afternoon was "Habits" and roll call answered with "How I cured my child of a bad habit." After a short business session the following program with Mrs. J. Shellie Strickland, leader, was rendered:

Piano Solo—Little Miss Mary Ellen Harrison.

Paper—"Selfishness and Other Disagreeable Traits That May Become Habits," Mrs. J. J. Speight.

Ruskin's "The King of the Golden River," Mrs. Henry Witherington.

A group of poems—Mrs. Max Fortner.

After the program a salad course was served.

UNITED DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY

An Alabama Day program was enjoyed on Wednesday afternoon when the United Daughters of the Confederacy met at the home of Mrs. W. S. Wilson with Mrs. J. M. Strickland, leader, of the following program:

Voice: (a) "Gipsying" (Ghent-Wilson); (b) "A Lullaby" (Ford-Wilson); (c) "The Star" (Mrs. W. S. Wilson at the piano).

Group of Original Poems, Mrs. Kate Downing Ghent.

"History of Alabama," Mrs. J. M. Strickland.

Duet: Mrs. Harvey Forrester, Miss Mildred Adair.

Chapter from Mrs. P. L. Matthews' History of Alabama, Mrs. E. S. Ford.

After adjournment a salad plate was enjoyed.

MOTHERS' CLUB MEETS

Mrs. E. R. Porter was hostess to the Mothers' club on Tuesday afternoon at the Country club when "The Bible" was the study for the afternoon. Mrs. Henry Flowers was leader and Mrs. J. E. Jones gave the story of David. Mrs. J. F. Beall the story of Jonathan and Mrs. C. C. Moseley the story of Job.

After the program Mrs. Potter, assisted her sister, Mrs. Paul McLendon, of Jackson, Miss., in serving a salad plate with hot coffee and salted nuts.

LEAGUE HAS WEINER ROAST

The Epworth League of the Lafayette Street Methodist church enjoyed a joint cane gridding and weiner roast a few miles from the city Friday evening. Meeting at the church at 6:30 o'clock the young folks motored to a nearby farm where cane juice and the roasting of weiners and marshmallows aided in making the evening one of merriment.

JUNIOR HARMONY HAS ALABAMA DAY PROGRAM

Lucy Young McIntyre was leader and Sara Agnes Wilkes and Sara Francis Conner hostess on Thursday afternoon when the Junior Harmony club held its Alabama Day program at the Elks' home. The parents of the juniors were guests.

Pink roses, swansons and numerous unshaded pink tapers burning in silver holders made a beautiful setting for the prominent club women who gathered at the home of Mrs. W. W. Brandon, on South Perry street, Wednesday afternoon from four-thirty to five-thirty o'clock for a cup of tea and an informal hour with the delegates and visitors who attended the annual meeting of the Fifth District Alabama Federation of clubs and the Southeastern Council of the General Federation.

Receiving with Mrs. Brandon were: Mrs. M. H. Tuttle, president of the Montgomery federation; Mrs. Val Taylor, state president; Mrs. R. P. Gross, of Alexander City, manager of the Fifth district; and members of the Southeastern Council: Mrs. J. W. McCollum, Miss Elizabeth Skinner, Mrs. J. Brevard Jones, Mrs. W. S. Jennings, Mrs. L. H. Jennings, Mrs. Stanley Read, Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, Mrs. J. H. Hayes and Mrs. A. P. Brantley.

The Ionian club of Montgomery federation acted as hostess on this occasion, with Mrs. G. W. Thompson, president of the club and Mrs. W. S. Keller, presiding at the tea table, which was laid with a handsome lace cloth and centered with a silver basket filled with pink roses and swansons. Encircling same were silver candlesticks holding pink candles and at intervals bon bon dishes held mints and cakes in pink and white. For the hour of four-thirty and five-thirty more than one hundred guests called to greet the women who are Montgomery's distinguished guests on this occasion.

LEGION AUXILIARY NAMES NEW OFFICERS

At the regular December meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary unit of Montgomery post No. 2, which was held Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. C. Johnson, on Linden avenue, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. Virginia B. Rangle, president; Mrs. George Glenn, vice president; Mrs. M. C. Mixon, secretary; Mrs. W. A. Gayle, treasurer; Mrs. A. C. Slattery, historian; Mrs. Sherrill C. Crockett, sergeant; Mrs. P. McDonald, chaplain.

Plans were perfected for the Christmas boxes to be sent to ex-service men in hospitals in Memphis and Gulfport. A splendid report was given of the booth of the state fair and other encouraging reports given. A membership campaign will be launched early in the new year when it is expected that a large number of new members will be enrolled. Mrs. George Glenn, vice president, presided at the meeting Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Jones And Mrs. Taylor Are Hosts

The Out Door inn was the scene of a beautiful party Thursday at 1 o'clock when Mrs. J. Brevard Jones, secretary-treasurer of the southeastern council of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Val Taylor, president of Alabama Federation of Women's clubs, entertained at an elaborate luncheon in honor of the delegates to the southeastern council, the Alabama federation board and executive committee of the Montgomery federation.

Guests numbering 100 were seated at seven tables placed in the spacious rooms of this attractive inn. Yellow and purple chrysanthemums and snapdragons with ferns were artistically used to decorate the tables where the guests were seated. Six tables were grouped around the center table where the hostesses, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Jones, and the honor guests were seated.

Following a short talk by Mrs. Brevard Jones, in which she welcomed the guests, Mrs. George Lynch gave two lovely vocal selections, "O For a Spring Day" and "The Star, Mrs. Taylor welcomed the guests on behalf of the federation, then presented Mrs. W. A. Saffold, who delighted the guests with four of her choice original poems.

At the conclusion of the luncheon the guests were invited into the billiard room and from a prettily arranged table which further carried out the federation colors of purple and gold, Mrs. M. H. Tuttle and Mrs. W. W. Brandon served hot coffee, mints and cakes.

PROSE WRITERS HONOR MANY VISITORS

The members of the Prose Writers the youngest club in the Alabama Federation, were the charming hostesses at a tea Thursday afternoon in honor of the Southeastern Council and the Fifth District Alabama Federation of Women's clubs, in the White House of the Confederacy.

Following the closing session of the joint meeting at the Bazaar class room, the hostesses to the visiting delegates took them for a delightful ride over the city, showing them the points of historical interest and beauty. At the termination of this ride the guests assembled at the First White House of the Confederacy on Washington avenue where the members of the Prose Writers club awaited them.

The tea table with its beautiful appointments was presided over by Mrs. W. P. DeJarnette.

Is central decoration was a silver bowl filled with purple and gold chrysanthemums, while silver trays held salted nuts and mints. Dainty cakes with yellow icing were embossed with delicate sprays of wisteria, carrying out the federation colors of purple and gold. The tea urn was placed on a beautiful antique silver tray and the whole service was in harmony with the surroundings. Tall silver candlesticks held golden tapers which cast a soft glow over the assembled guests who called during the hours of four and six o'clock.

BEAUVOIR CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL RECEPTION

Several hundred members of the Beauvoir club, Montgomery's most exclusive club gathered in the spacious club rooms Friday evening for the annual winter reception and dance which opened the social season in Montgomery for the winter. A large number of out of town guests were also in attendance at the most brilliant social affair of the year. For the occasion the club rooms were beautifully decorated with a profusion of autumn flowers and ferns.

Receiving with General R. F. Ligon, president of the club was Mrs. Ligon and officers of the club and their wives. Following the informal reception dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. At midnight a delicious buffet supper was served.
